It is felt that the annual Easter party was not held this year. The 1965 and 1966 Easter parties were held on the first Sunday in April.

Newark has no information of contacts between DE CAVALCANTE and the Connecticut LCN members. It is felt these contacts are still taking place, but State, local, and other Federal agency investigations and information dissemination of the DE CAVALCANTE LCN "family" have caused this LCN group to become extremely discreet in their contacts in Kenilworth, N.J.

the cab driver would return the finished product to the Ring Company from [redacted] he would always deliver small manilla envelopes.

[redacted] pointed out that on several occasions he noted that ALAN mailed large boxes, which were very heavy, to [redacted] or at least he believed it to be [redacted] and these boxes would require more than [redacted] postage from the Bridal Ring Company Postage Machine. [redacted] pointed out that this would require weights in excess of 500 ounces, based on $.05 an ounce, First Class Mail. He stated that this was far above average and as a matter of practice, if the Bridal Ring Company were shipping a large amount of gold, it would be sent Registered Mail. [redacted] stated that this postage and the weight of these packages stood out like a sore thumb to him.

[redacted] advised that the normal package mailed from this Company would have a postage of approximately 30 cents affixed to the envelope.

[redacted] stated that to his knowledge packages of sufficient size to warrant more than $5.00 postage for First Class Mail were never sent from this Company. He stated that the business practice and indeed the understanding with the Post Office was that packages in excess of 2 pounds, were shipped express. He stated that occasionally the postage meter would be utilized for two or three dollar packages, which, however, were shipped Registered Mail and would be, therefore, more expensive.

During the course of this interview, [redacted] discussed this matter with people under his employ at the current time and confirmed that packages of this size and weight were never mailed from this business.

b6
b7C

[redacted] concluded that if LENCHNER did, in fact, mail packages of this weight, it would not be in the normal course of their business.

[redacted] at this time, brought out the fact that in reviewing the periods of time from 1961 - 1965, that ALAN LENCHNER was employed with this company, he felt that the business had unaccountably lost a great deal of money and he felt that LENCHNER had been stealing from the Company during the latter period of this employment (mid 1960's). He stated that, for instance, in 1965, the company unaccountably lost $17,000.00, when, in fact, the business done should have caused the company to show a profit. He stated that at the time, he had concluded that this must have been an operational expense which could not be readily determined, but in retrospect, concluded that LENCHNER had been stealing from the company during this period.

Miss WALDEN'EL stated after being told that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was investigating a large loss of gold from this company that the only person she could suspect in this matter would be ALAN LENCHNER. She stated that LENCHNER obviously wore and boasted about his expensive clothing and jewelry. She stated that she knew he drove two expensive cars and recently invested a large amount of money in a new restaurant on Long Island. She stated that in addition to the above, and while she was employed as a jeweler in this company, she noticed that while the company would order blanks that could be readily made into any style carried by this company, in any size, she and the other jewelers constantly had to improvise by changing sizes on the various designs. She stated that she felt the rings were ordered in sufficient quantity so this "sizing" would not have to be done normally. She stated she, also, noticed that while LENCHNER had been absent for six months, that this necessity had been largely done away with and they had sufficient rings in all sizes. She stated that she had noticed that LENCHNER frequently met his girlfriends for lunch and she suspected that his whole standard of living was many times over his actual salary. She stated that she would not suspect any other individual in this shop. She stated that all other employees of this shop considered this to be above average employment and worked under family-like circumstances.

advised that he had been in military service between August and December of 1966 and therefore, could give no information concerning the loss as described to him. He stated that if 10,000 blanks were missing, it would seem that they were taken out on a daily basis. This would mean that at least 100 or 200 rings per day would have to be taken. He advised that he works with ALAN LENCHNER in the vault of this establishment and he feels that if this loss were occurring, LENCHNER should have noticed it. [redacted] stated that subsequent to her previous interview on January 7, 1967, she had discussed this matter with other employees of this company and she stated she wished to give the following information:

She stated that she was aware that LENCHNER was a "show off" type of person who wore expensive clothing, drove expensive automobiles and had recently opened a restaurant. She stated that while she had had nothing to do with LENCHNER at a Christmas party which LENCHNER threw for the employees of the Bridal Ring Company at his restaurant, LENCHNER had tried to kiss her while he was dancing with her. She stated that because she was married and knew him to be married, she allowed this matter to go no further. She stated, however, that she had felt flattered by this attention and had a friendly regard for LENCHNER. She stated that on the Saturday following LENCHNER's resignation from this company, she had telephoned him at his restaurant. She stated that after she identified herself to LENCHNER on the telephone on that Saturday, she had asked him what had happened and why had he left the company. LENCHNER replied, "I can't talk about it; I think the phone is tapped." She stated that she had had no other conversation with LENCHNER.

She stated the only suspicious activity on the part of any person in this company that she had ever noticed was on one occasion she had been with LENCHNER in the vault and had picked up a package which she described as approximately 8" by 3" by 3" which was extremely heavy and she felt that it was a bar of gold.

[redacted] stated that from her knowledge of the operation of this company, only three persons might have perpetrated this theft; [redacted] or Mr. LENCHNER. She stated that LENCHNER maintained almost exclusive control of the gold inventory and was the only one who had sufficient access to the diamonds in this company to have [redacted] the diamonds. The records of the hotel for 1965 reflect that
Mr. [REDACTED] ALAN LENCHNER of 3310 Nostrand Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, registered at the hotel on July 10, 1965, with their three children. They registered under the four week

The records indicate that they checked out of the hotel on August 7, 1965, and their total bill for four weeks was $1,983.95. The records indicated that on or about July 30, 1965, LENCHNER paid $800.00 on his bill and at the time he checked out of the hotel on August 7, 1965, he paid the remainder of $1,183.95.

The hotel records for 1966 reflect that LENCHNER and his wife, along with their three children, identified as [REDACTED] (Phonetic) checked into the hotel on July 10, 1966 under the five week plan which costs $2,500.00. This plan included maid service. They remained at the hotel until August 21, 1966. Their total bill for the five weeks was $3,377.51. The records indicate that on

She noted that ALAN LENCHNER only visited his family on weekends and that his wife and three children stayed during the whole time. She recalled that she believed during 1965 LENCHNER paid $200.00 on his bill with a check that bounced. She indicated that LENCHNER after being contacted by the hotel made it good, however, she could not recall on which bank the check was drawn or if there was only one check involved. She indicated that LENCHNER did not use any credit cards and that most of the bill was paid in cash.

She stated that she would not classify LENCHNER as a big spender, however, he always seemed to have money. She indicated that she believed LENCHNER was associated with his father or father-in-law in the jewelry business in New York City. She indicated that she never carried on a correspondence or conversation with LENCHNER and that he was never any trouble to the hotel.

On the same date, Chief of Security [redacted] Raleigh Hotel, advised that he knows ALAN LENCHNER and his family. He indicated that they were guests at the hotel during the summer months of the 1965 and 1966 season. He indicated that he considered LENCHNER "to be a phony" and although LENCHNER was not any difficulty to the hotel personnel, he appeared to have no visible means of employment. [redacted] stated that he believed that LENCHNER was associated with a relative in the jewelry business in New York City. He stated that LENCHNER visited the hotel only on weekends and that he appeared not to associate with any of the other guests.

It is noted that for the 1966 season, LENCHNER's bill reflected that he had a bar expense of $140.25 for the period of July 11, 1966, through August 19, 1966. As indicated above, it is noted that the owner of the hotel has advised that the hotel does not maintain toll slips on any calls made by guests at the end of the season.
